

MEET THE teacher

Miss Wenger

Hello, and welcome to room 45! I am so excited to have YOU in our classroom! We are going to have an incredible year. Together, we are going to grow our reading and writing skills to new levels-all while having fun along the way!

ABOUT ME

I grew up in Palmyra, PA, right next to Hershey. In fact, I could see the Kissing Tower and Skyrush from my house! I could often be found reading or playing field hockey. I have wanted to be a teacher since I was very young, and I went to Millersville University to become certified to teach elementary students in general education and special education. My goal is to help you confidently use your reading and writing skills in everyday life. I also hope you leave my classroom everyday being a better person!

MEET THE teacher

Dear families,

I can hardly express my excitement to kick off this school year and meet your amazing children! This is my fourth year here at Hershey Elementary, and I am so blessed to teach what I believe is the BEST grade! ☺ I graduated from Millersville University with my degree and certifications in Early Childhood Education (PreK-6th grade) as well as Special Education (PreK-12th grade). Currently, I am working towards a Master's degree in Teaching and Curriculum. This summer I completed my certification program for teaching students who have English as a second language. I am excited to teach next to Mrs. Homsher, who will be your child's math, science, and social studies teacher. Your child will have a blast with her!

I have such fond and vivid memories of reading and writing during my own fourth-grade year of school, and I hope to provide that same experience to your child this year. Together, we will read inspiring stories, analyze the work of gifted authors, and write quality pieces from various perspectives. We will also grow our hearts and minds to more eagerly take risks, accept mistakes, encourage others, and give our best everyday.

Students flourish when they are supported both at home and at school. I am eager to partner with you so that your child succeeds in all aspects of their life. I will do my best this school year to communicate frequently so that you are always informed on what your child is doing in class. Please feel free to reach out to me with any exciting news, questions, or concerns as we go throughout the year. I am here for you and your child!

Best wishes,

Kayla Wenger
